Not now, but some day
there may come a time when you are lonely and feeling blue, then just

TRY TO REMEMBER

the good old days when there was a happy time for us.

Turn the pages of this book
and try to remember.
Rest and reminisce
as you live in the past forgetting how time has flown and all seeming like yesterday.

Then with courage renewed shake off the gloom and face the coming day with a smile, and

that today is unique—it had never happened before,
it can never happen again,
and for one brief moment
it is all-important.

So make the most of it
accepting all it brings.
Then why not sit back and really enjoy life
by finding all the wonderful things
God has for all of us, if we will but stop and look and

TRY TO REMEMBER

Memories will last not for just an hour
not for just a day
not for just a year
but always, always.

6/71
gift

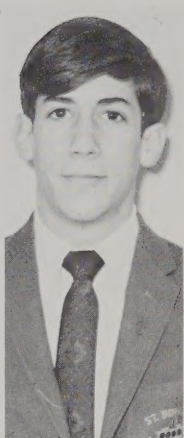

What is this life
if, full of care,
we have no time
to stand and stare?

Time, you old gypsy man,
Will you not stay,
Put up your caravan
Just for one day?

Remember
when it was

Call back frosh yesterday, bid time return!

Freshman year began with a swirl of new impressions . . . new faces, new experiences, new friendships, new resolutions . . . sense of strangeness died with the fall of autumn leaves . . . spring saw things beginning to pop . . . our water pistol fights . . . final exams with summer's approach . . . the end of a great first year.

Measured for blazers made the 232 of us newcomers feel that we were on the road to being accepted as real high school students at SBHS.

We were not eligible for the Worcester Diocesan Speech Festival but many of us did try out for the interclass play. Francis Arsenault, John Hazell, and Craig Martin turned out for the cross-country track team. We also had our own frosh football and later our basketball team. Richard Chartrand, assistant manager of the varsity team played an important role in getting our gridsters on to the field.

Christmas came early to SBHS with a new classroom Sony Super Television, the first video-recorder in the area. Costumed freshmen assisted the seniors at their "Old New England Christmas" dance.

John Hazell was our pride and joy on the J.V. basketball team. We shared in the congratulations accorded our hoopsters in winning the North Central Massachusetts Conference championship.

In the cast of "Keep Your Halo Straight" were Claudia Bilotta, Katherine Carroll, James Halligan, Donald Normandin, Michael Robillard, Mary Sango, Debra Siart, and Sandra Sullivan.

Receiving awards in the Science Fair of '68 were Denise Boivin, Sandra Cormier, Denise Fredette, Ellen Gilman, Emma Hatstat, Gail LaCouture, Sharon LaFleur, and Marianne McCue.

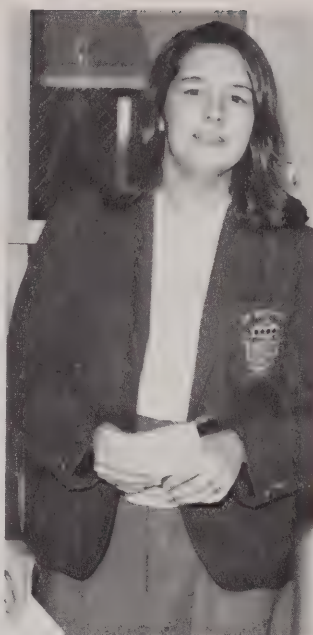

In the intramurals, Martin Murphy was high frosh with 18 points. The girls placed three teams in competition in their intramurals. Gail Bedard, Susan Owen, Karen Sova, and Paula Stone were chosen to take the place of senior cheerleaders.

We contributed to the enthusiastic response given to the first language fair at SBHS with its plays, skits, and dances of French and Spanish students.

At the awards assembly in June, Richard Lussier merited a letter in baseball; Brian Finneron and Thomas Nikitas in track.

June the month of roses was also the month of final exams taken as the temperature and sunshine announced that summer and the end of our first high school year were just around the corner.

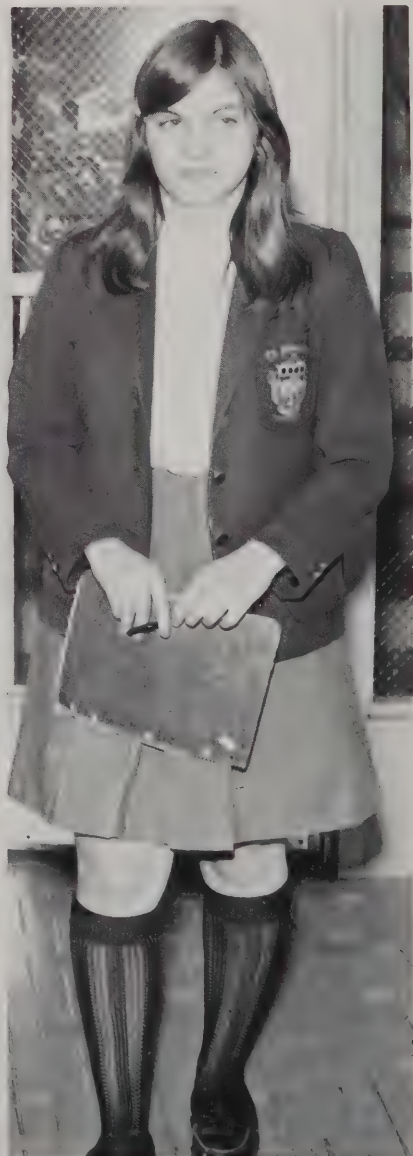

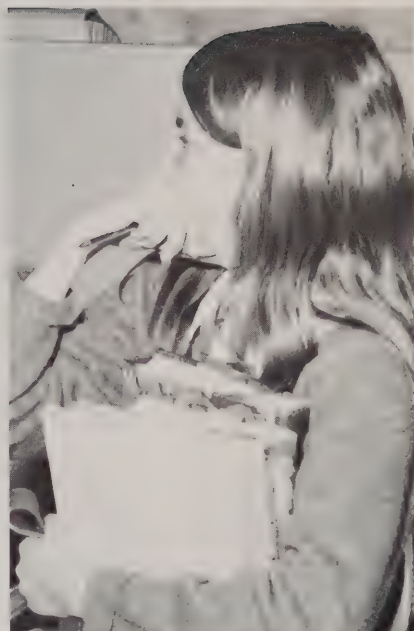

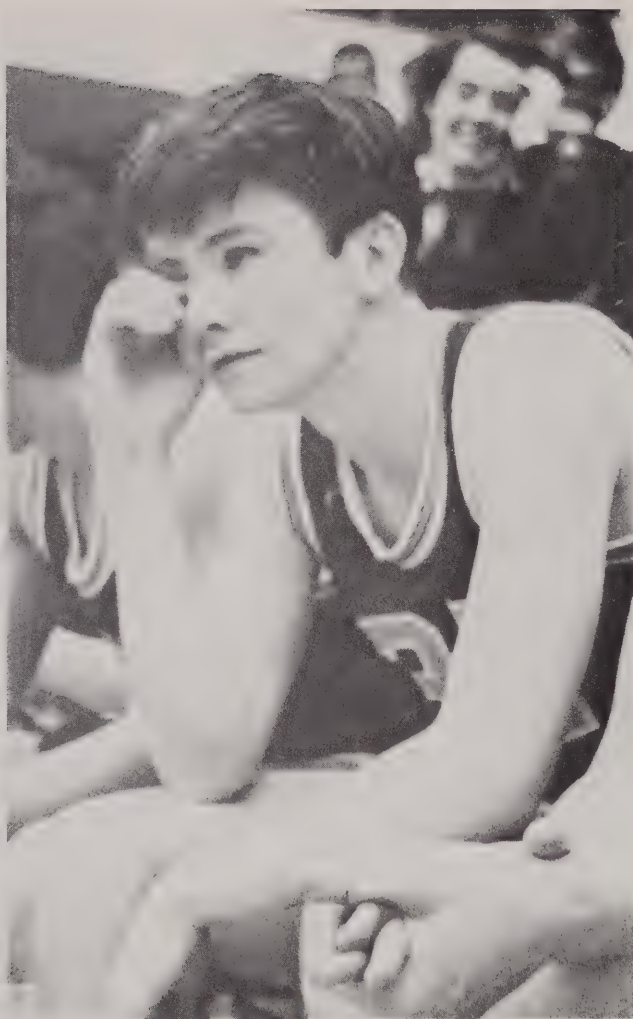

Sophomore year... a transitional period... the time when we were most reckless and very much alive... now we knew the score... well equipped with that carefree confidence which characterizes sophs everywhere... our collective identity really began to emerge... reached its fullness in our first big all-school project... the Sophomore Bar-B-Q.

Vacation weeks passed quickly and our sophomore year was now before us. Enrollment figures totaled 891 encompassed in twenty-five homerooms. Although our soph class of two hundred nine was the smallest of the four we felt that what we lacked in numbers was amply made up for in quality.

As the date set for the second annual Language Fair was November 14, no time was lost in preparing for this event. Soon many of us were tripping the light fantastic in Spanish or French dances, or singing native songs, or acting in some skit, such as the death scene from Don Quixote. Hours were spent in making costumes, projects, and in the building of a French village or Spanish pueblo. French pastries were also made and served by pupils.

While soph boys were going out for cross country or football, girls were trying to put into practice the proper etiquette instructions set forth in a series of talks and illustrations by Miss Mary Curtin.

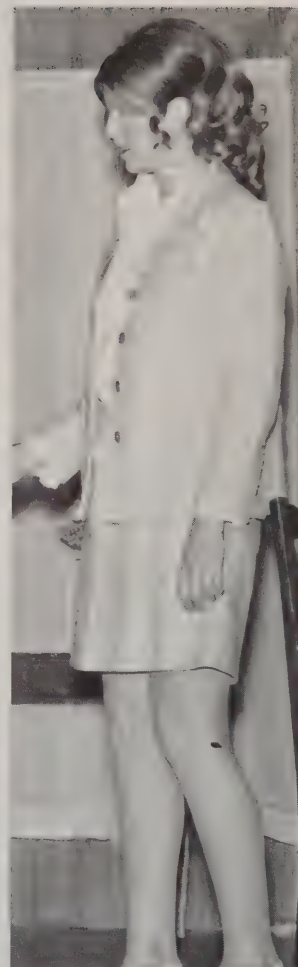

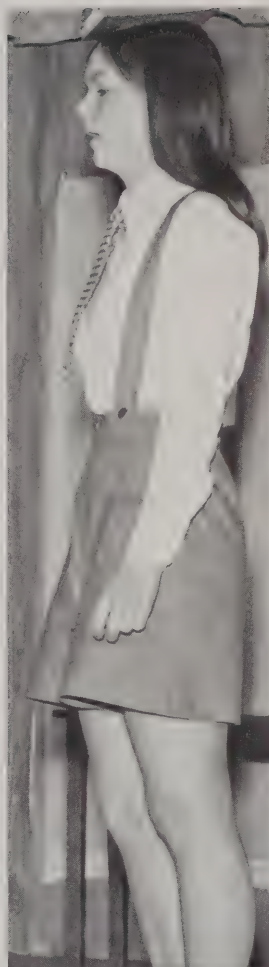

Mayor William G. Flynn proclaimed March 25, as St. Bernard's High School Day throughout the city. This was done to honor our basketball team for capturing the N.C.M.C. championship and the District III Crown. The latter was won with but fourteen seconds left in the game when soph Jack Hazell calmly walked to the foul line and with the poise of a pro, sank the two free throws, giving us the victory over St. John's.

We followed our team to the Boston Garden and saw them defeat Braintree but go down to undefeated Catholic Memorial. But school spirit still lingered as we sang our school songs all the way to the buses and home.

Don't Take My Penny was our first three-act play. Sharon LaFleur was Penny with movie-star aspirations. Her very busy father and mother were Peter McGrath and Denise Fredette. Emma Hatstat was her attractive sister and Stephen LeBlanc, her farm-minded brother. Her lovable grandmother was Marianne McCue. Penny's loyal girl friend was Gail Brassard; her resourceful boy friend, David Normandin; his pal with ideas, John Crotty. Roxanne Cote was a maid with a purpose. John Carpenter was a publicity man; Michael O'Leary, a young author; and John Carignan, a French designer. Ellen Gilman, Cheryl O'Donnell, and Ann Pelletier were models.

In the Winter Carnival, the sophomores copped first place honors with their construction of two turtles made from the snow accumulation of some forty inches at the Bowl. At the record hop which concluded the all-day affair, the class was presented with a first-class trophy.

An afternoon of games, fun, and refreshments was well planned by the fourteen pupils elected from soph homerooms under the direction of Mr. McGuirk and Deborah Raboin and Paul Chapdelaine. This first big venture of June 15 as a class helped to bring us closer together and made us realize that our strength and success depended upon how well we worked together. How we sweated and fretted to make the Sophomore Bar-B-Q of '69 the biggest and best!

The Math and Science Fair of March 17 achieved a different look with its new format tending to utilize in-depth research and competent and articulate oral presentation, rather than the old way of posters, charts, and projects with not so much scientific skill exerted in many cases. For this change individual classrooms were used instead of the customary arrangement in the gym.

JUNIOR YEAR

A year when . . .

friendships solidified and acquaintances withstood the test of time.

A year when . . .

we had our own class officers and our own class rings.

A year when . . .

our glorious
J.S.R. was a grand finale
to a great year that was A Time For Us and one to REMEMBER.

Our JUNIOR year was ushered in by that spectacular event of July 20, 1969—an American astronaut setting foot on the moon.

During the summer months, also, the Bernardian Bowl underwent renovations. The entrance was repaved, the parking area extended, and the field reseeded. The concession stands were put in apple-pie order. Walls were sandblasted and painted.

Our school year began with a new headmaster, Father Richard J. Carelli. Our former headmaster, Father Donahue was now assistant superintendent of schools in our Worcester diocese. Mr. Lamothe was now athletic moderator.

Mr. Taddeo was the new head football coach to take the place of Mr. Lane. In its second game of the season, the team did a fine job in defeating Worcester South and later a victory over St. Peter's.

As a result of our first class elections, Richard Boudreau was elected president, Deborah Raboin, vice-president; Brian Fineron, treasurer; and Claudia Bilotta, secretary. Lucille Mailloux was the class historian.

The Christian Action Movement replaced the Sodality. The first project was helping the Red Cross to collect suitable articles for ditty bags to be sent to U.S. soldiers in Vietnam. Monthly visits were also to be continued to the army hospital at Fort Devens. Thanksgiving food baskets were also filled in each homeroom.

In the Student Council elections of '69, James Fitzpatrick was chosen treasurer. The other officers were seniors.

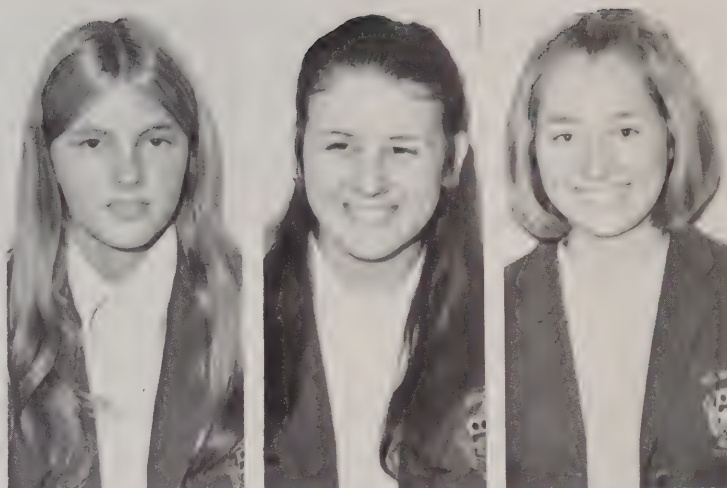

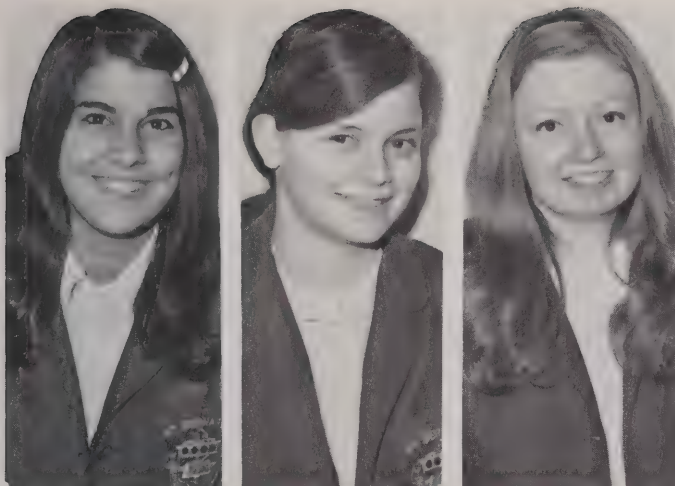

Nancy Berube was one of the two pupils in the school to make high honor during first quarter. Gail Brassard placed third in the "Voice of Democracy" contest. Roxanne Cote, Concetta DiRusso, and Kathleen Martin attended the science symposium at the University of Massachusetts.

Marianne McCue won the $100 Savings Bond award for her prize essay in the Fort Devens contest.

In the game with F.H.S. girls, Kathy Morin was high scorer. Mary Sango and Mary Ward were guards.

Steven LeBlanc, Denise Fredette, Nancy Berube, and Gail LaCouture were winners in the annual math and science congress at SBHS.

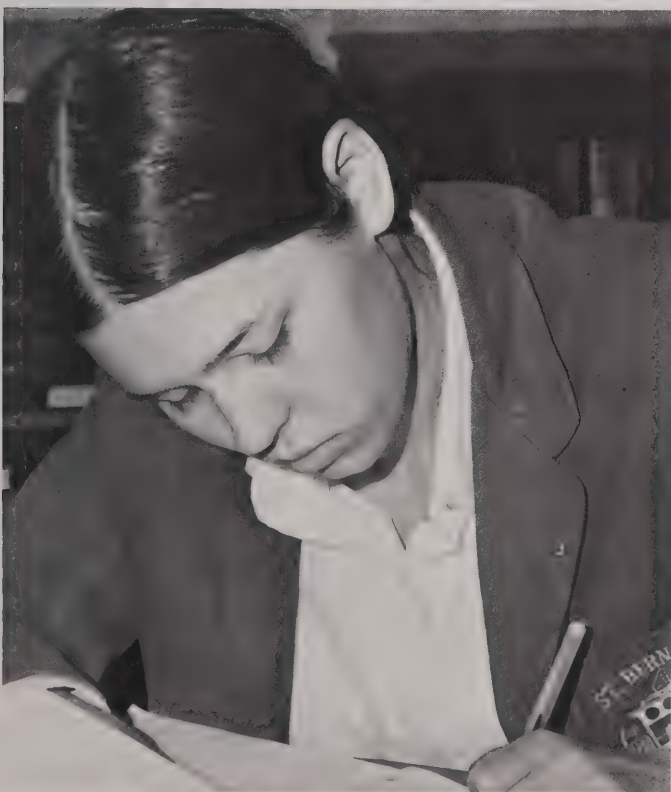

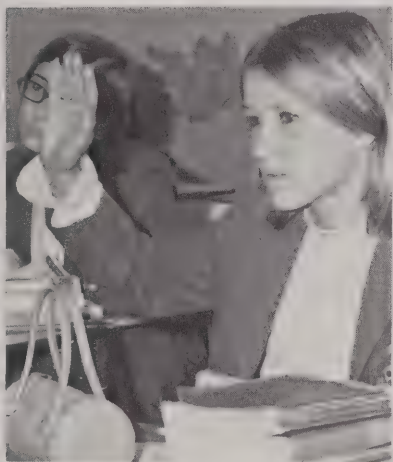

In the 1970 Student Council elections, Paul Chapdelaine was voted in for president; Diane Rutan, vice-president; and Dennis LeBlanc, treasurer.

On the national level, Susan Gorman, Louise Joseph, Marianne McCue, Sandra Sullivan, and Joanne Sweeney merited certificates for essays; for poetry—Diane Bedard, Donna Dignard, Anne Pelletier, Kathleen Rogers, and Sandra Sullivan. Gail Brassard received a state award for excellence in debating; Denise Fredette, Susan Owen, Joanne Redding, and Sandra Sullivan for speech.

Receiving awards for achieving the highest rating in a particular subject: Nancy Berube, Gail Bedard, Andre Dauphinais, Cynthia Gagne, Denis LeBlanc, Muriel LeBlanc, Joanne Sonack, Louise Savino, and Susan Vaillancourt.

Winners in the Putnam Essay contest: Gail Brassard, John Cotton, Louise Joseph, and Joanne Slattery.

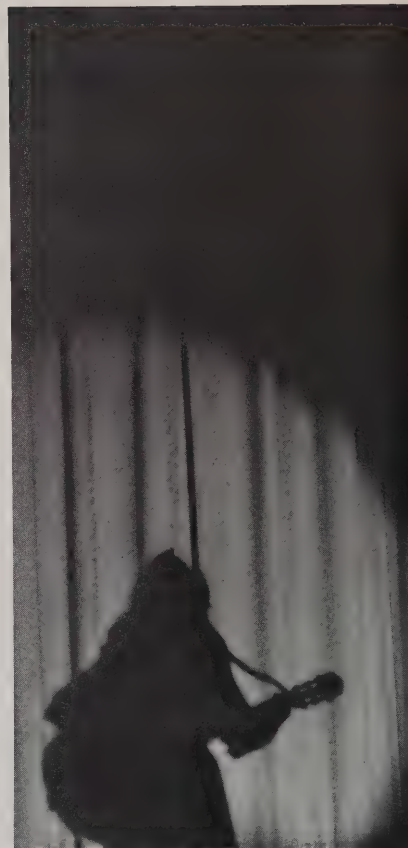

THE OUTCASTS OF POKER FLAT was the one-act play selected by the Juniors in the inter-class plays of '70. The place of this Bret Harte story was a cabin in the Sierra Nevada Mountains in California in the year 1850. Sister Ellen Elizabeth directed. Steven LeBlanc and Denise Fredette received the best actor and actress awards.

Richard Allain was Uncle Billy; Denise Fredette, Mother Shipton; and Steven LeBlanc, John Oakhurst. Sharon LaFleur was the Duchess. John Carpenter played the part of the youthful Tom Simson and Joanne Sonack, his pretty fiancée. Paul Chapdelaine was Jim Wheeler, a citizen of Poker Flat.

Language Fair

11/14/69

Unity, the central theme of the 3rd annual Language Fair at SBHS, was well carried out from the opening song, It's a Small World, and continued on to the end in songs, skits, and dances. Not only the stage but the whole school had an old-world look. Roving Mariaches entertained with their guitars and songs. One room specialized in a section from the Spanish play, El Cid; another, from the French play, Lion in Winter. Puppets and a Puppet theatre were a big attraction in another room. In the Art Museum pupils displayed original works.

The gym was completely converted—gypsy camps, well-stocked wine cellars, the Basque section of the Pyrennes, and a real live bull in its pen to be fed and patted. The cafeteria had its typical French and Spanish cafes where refreshments were served by pupils dressed in native costumes.

The Wax Museum of Madame Tussaud presented such well-known figures as Charlemagne, Joan of Arc, Marie Antoinette, Napoleon, Josephine, Sarah Bernhardt, and Charles DeGaulle.

Oklahoma

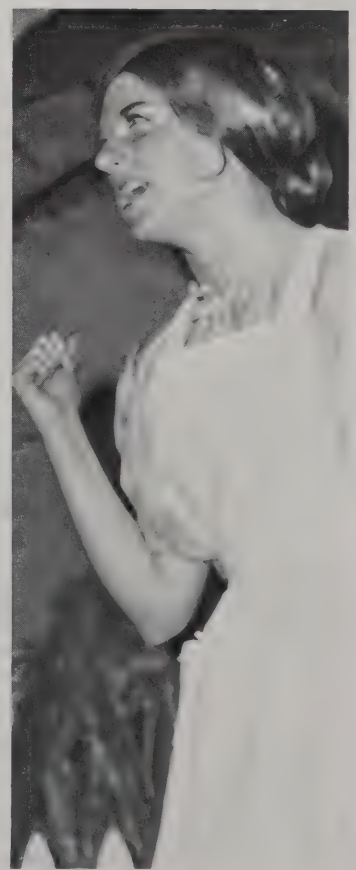

In the all-school musical production of Oklahoma presented in the school auditorium on the evenings of April 15, 16, 17, two Juniors of '71 had leading roles—Nancy Berube as the heroine Laurie and Roxanne Cote as the ingenue Ado Annie. Donna Dignard was pianist. Gail Bedard, Patricia DiPietro, Mary K. Martin, and Cheryl Quinn danced in the Dream Ballet. Claudia Bilotta, Susan Owen, and Mary Sango worked on costumes. Other Juniors sang in the chorus.

Two sophomores of '72 were also in the cast—Mark Comeau as Ado Annie's father and Thomas DiRusso as Ali Hakim the peddler.

The class of '70 had important parts in the operetta—Judith Hammond as Aunt Eller; Roger Gamache, Curly; Raymond Bedard, Ike Skidmore; John Creed, Shorty; Robert Bilodeau, Jud Fry; Michael Tierney, Will Parker; Kevin Mullahy, Cord Elam; Rhonda Faucher, Gertie Cummings; Diane Pagnotto, the fortune teller.

Sister Mary Laurita directed the play; Father Carelli and Mrs. Buckley, the music.

Laurie dreams of that ride with Curly in the surrey with the fringe on top. It becomes a reality on their wedding day but only after the tragic death of her other suitor, Jud Fry, who attacks Curly after the marriage.

Ado Annie appears at the Box Social with parasol and attractive lunch basket. Although Will Parker's girl, she flirts with Ali Hakim, the peddler. Her father with gun in hand protests.

Junior Senior Reception 6/3/70

A highlight in Senior week was the Junior-Senior reception. The evening began with a turkey dinner for the seniors and faculty in the cafeteria. Claudia Bilotta was chairman for the dinner arrangements with Sister Aina and Sister Ellen as faculty advisors. Juniors served as waiters and waitresses.

Revolving around the unifying theme of a class reunion in the year 2,000, the JSR show in the auditorium consisted of three segments depicting such memories as a "Laugh-In" party, an interview with Luigi Lanconi, and Oscar Meyer wieners. The review dealt with the persons, places, and things to be remembered by '70 at their 30th reunion.

The third segment introduced the theme A Time for Us sung by the entire junior class. Sister Patricia, Mr. Dattis, Mr. Taddeo, and Mrs. Buckley directed the show. Donna Dignard was the accompanist. Brian Finneron and Debra Raboin headed the entertainment committee.

Paul Bilodeau, Richard Chartrand, James Halligan, Craig Martin and Donald Normandin were in charge of lighting. Gail Brassard was choreographer. Roxanne Cote supervised the make-up and Sheila Flathers, the backdrops. Costumes were made by Dunna Duval, Constance Fluet, Elaine LeBlanc, Susan Owen, and Mary Sango.

A dance in the gym followed the entertainment. Because Aquarius was a feature number in the show, the gym was decorated accordingly. A water carrier, symbol of Aquarius, adorned the center of the gym with other signs of the zodiac decorating the walls. Seniors and Juniors danced together under a starlit sky to the music of "The Coachmen." Lucille Mailloux directed the decorations with Sister Honora and Mr. Listewnik as faculty advisors.

According to astrologers,
Aquarius signifies enlightenment.
And Aquarians are characterized by a desire to solve problems. . .
to reach for the Utopian.
Truth is the name of the game;
"Tell it like it is"—the motto.
Some say they're dreamers,
Grasping for unreachable goals,
and attempting to remedy tomorrow's difficulties now, before they occur.

When the moon is in the seventh house,
And Jupiter aligns with Mars,
Then peace will guide the planets,
And love will steer the stars;
This is the dawning of the age of Aquarius,
The age of Aquarius. Aquarius. Aquarius.
Harmony and understanding, sympathy and trust abounding.
No more falsehoods or derisions,
Golden living dreams of visions,
Mystic crystal revelation,
And the mind's true liberation.
Aquarius. Aquarius.

the fruits
of their labors

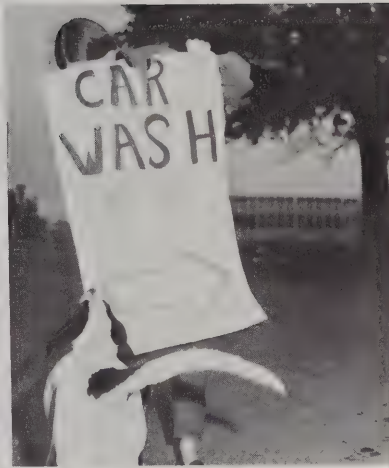

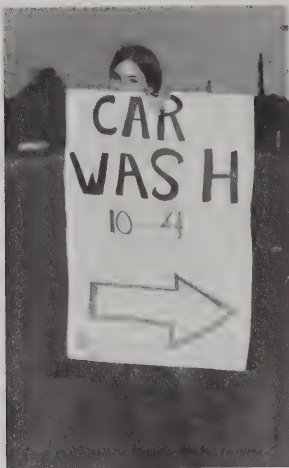

The George R. Wallace Jr. Civic Center was opened to the public on January 18, 1970 with special dedication ceremonies which included a concert by the Boston Pops Orchestra. Mayor William Flynn expressed the sentiments of Fitchburg as he accepted the 2.4 million dollar complex on the city's behalf.

The center's coliseum sides with three thousand feet of bleachers provides seating for eighteen hundred people. The center can be used for basketball, hockey, ice skating, balls, concerts, and other such events. SBHS had a part to play in the opening week when they met FHS for the first basketball game. Mr. Wallace tossed the opening ball.

The Alice G. Wallace Planetarium had its grand opening on January 25. Assisting in the dedication was Astronaut Richard F. Gordon, who piloted the command module on the Apollo 12 moon mission.

On June 6, the Class of '70 of SBHS had the honor of being the first to hold its graduation exercises at the Center. Bishop Harrington, on behalf of the Diocese of Worcester, presented Mr. Wallace with the distinguished medal, Pro Deo et Juventute.

Splashing . . . dripping . . . soaking wet . . . water hose fights . . . stringy, straggly hair . . . sopping sneakers and jeans . . . water, water, everywhere . . . those big trucks . . . togetherness . . . worth all the pneumonia hazards.

Convent of the Sisters of the Presentation

Two hundred years ago, a young girl in Paris was trying to make a decision—should she continue on in her pleasant life of ease and comfort, or should she renounce all this and return to her native land to help her own poor people? Nano Nagle herself was of the Irish upper class and had been sent to France to finish her education as was the custom among the few wealthy Irish families.

The grace of God triumphed and Nano returned to Ireland and alone began her work among the poor. With her own money she hired teachers and set up little schools where the poor children were warmly welcomed. In the evening, she visited the homes of the poor.

The first convent of the Sisters of the Presentation was opened in 1775. When Nano Nagle died in 1784, the order had but three sisters to carry on her work. Today, the Sisters of the Presentation are found all over the world in every continent.

Last year, Sister Paula Cormier, SBHS class of 1955, in true Nano Nagle spirit, volunteered to embrace a life of poverty and hardship to work among the poor in Sicuani, Peru, a valley in the Andes. Realizing that Spanish fluency was not enough, Sister has courageously begun to master the difficult Quecha language of the Indians. Riding horseback is not a pastime but a necessity for Sister Paula as she makes her rounds.

Sister had been but a few months in Peru, when the disastrous earthquake occurred. She did her bit in ministering to the needs of the suffering.

God grant eternal rest to all Bernardians who have died in the service of their country.

... Have you heard that it was good to gain the day?
I also say
it is good to fall,
... battles are lost
in the same spirit
in which they are won.

—Walt Whitman

Over eight hundred years ago, there was no man so highly esteemed as the saintly Bernard of Clairvaux.
He was renowned as preacher, writer, miracle worker, scholar, peacemaker, counselor to popes and princes,
and champion of the poor and oppressed.
Commissioned by Pope Eugenius III, Bernard preached the Second Crusade, and in a short time, the whole of France and Germany was set on fire by his words.
But twenty-eight months later, Louis VII returned to France with only a few hundred remaining of the hundred thousand men with which he had departed.
There was scarcely a family which had not some loss,
and never were so many widows and orphans in France.
Bernard, the soul and mover of this great enterprise was the one man blamed for this disastrous failure.
But he never doubted the truth of his mission and declared that his personal justification sprang from the testimony of his conscience:
“... I willingly endure the words of slander and the blasphemies of impiety, provided they are directed against me, and not against God.
It is an exceeding honor for me to be, in some degree, united to Jesus Christ when He said, the ‘assaults of those who have insulted thee
Have fallen upon me.’ ”

*Discourse of His Holiness
Pope Paul VI
At a General Audience*

Do people pray today? . . .
Does modern man know how to pray?
Does he feel any obligation to pray?
Does the Christian find prayer easy? . . .
Why is the life of prayer less intense and less easy for people of our time? for ourselves?
The reply to this question is extremely complex and difficult but we can at any rate sum it up by saying that we are brought up and educated to live external lives . . .
Our thoughts are chiefly concerned with the visible realm:
radio, television, photography, mental symbols and patterns.
They are concerned with relationships with others.
We are extroverted.
Moral conscience itself claims a liberty to abandon itself to itself, and look for its bearings in the outer world.
Where is God? Where is Christ?
Where is that religious life for which we still feel and shall always feel an obscure but unsatisfied need? . . .
The essential crossroads at which there is a meeting with the religious mystery, with God, is within us, in the interior room of our spirit and in that personal activity which we call Prayer.
It is in this attitude of search, of listening, of asking,
of learning that God's action usually gets through to us and gives us a sense of the real and invisible things of His kingdom . . .
We say it to you, young people, who are avidly looking for the key of the new century:
We say it to you, Christians, who want to find a possible, purifying and sanctifying synthesis between life as it is lived today and the faith, which you hold dear.
We say it to you people of our time who are launched far out in the maelstrom of your overwhelming occupations and feel need for certainty and comfort which nothing in the world can give you.
To all of you we say: Pray, brethren! ORATE FRATRES!
Never grow tired of trying to raise up this word with your inward voice from the inmost depths of your spirit:
You! uttered to the ineffable God,
to that mysterious Other,
who watches us, who waits for us,
who loves us.
You will certainly not be disappointed or abandoned,
but you will experience the new joy of an intoxicating reply:
ECCE ADSUM! Here I am! (is. 58, 9)

*Lord, You are the strength of those who hope in You.
Listen favorably to our prayers; and since human weakness can accomplish nothing without Your help, may Your grace assist us in observing Your commandments and in pleasing You by our desires and our actions.*

There's a long, long line awaiting—this time it happens to be the buses, which arrive a few minutes before two each day and make themselves heard if not seen. Then the inter-com notices begin and another school day is almost over. When the bell rings, the exodus begins and commuters rush to buses and to favorite seats.

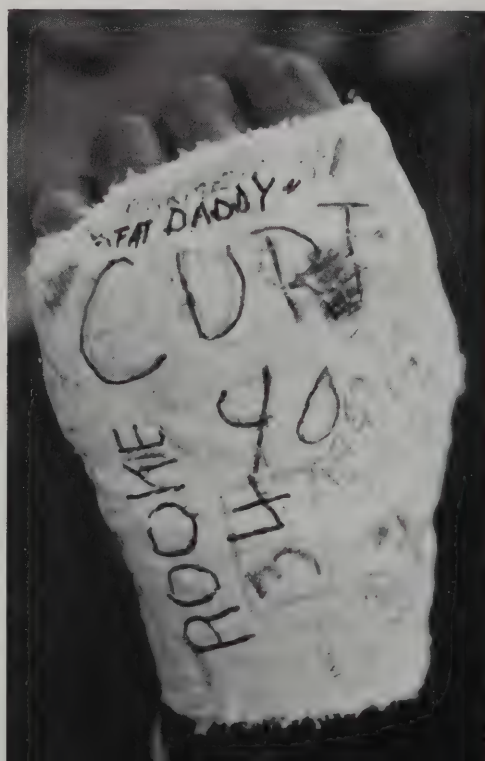

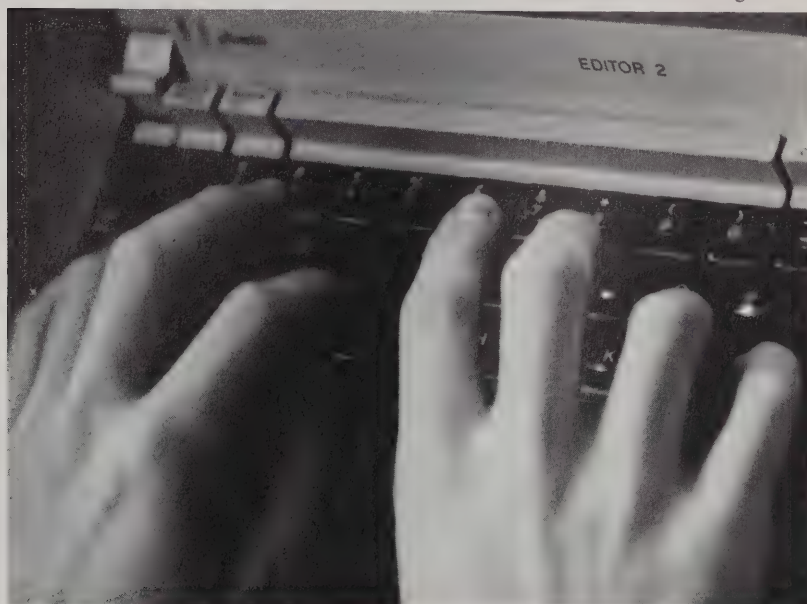

No man can feel himself alone
The while he bravely stands
Between the best friends ever known
His two good, honest hands.

--Waterman

What would we do without our hands? Thomas Albert, at the beginning of junior year, experienced a partial loss of the use of his hand, but this was enough to convince him of its worth.

Mark Blier, coming to us from the Perkins Institute for the Blind, also values these two good friends. His long, tapering fingers are delicately sensitive to touch—a skill so essential in the reading of and the taking of notes in Braille, which he transcribes at the typewriter, with ease and accuracy.

Mark is also a church organist and guitar player.

At the first general meeting of the Christian Action Movement group, volunteers were sought to work in the nursery at St. Bernard's for mothers who teach parish CCD in the afternoon. Plans were finalized to help with the missions of Peru and with the Spanish speaking apostolate. In this latter endeavor, members will work under the direction of Sister Jacqueline McGrath in helping Puerto Rican children learn the fundamentals of English. Foodbaskets, teaching CCD, visiting the Fort Devens hospital, ditty bags and care of the altars are again included in this year's projects. Early in the year, Pamela Christian began to train Donna St. Germaine and Patricia Kelly for chapel duties.

A time to be serious, a time to be studious—Stephen Firmani, Steven Bianchini, Joanne Boucher, Richard Boudreau. Claudia Bilotta. Donna Fiorention, Denise Fredette, Jeannette Belliveau, Michele Despres. Debra Seretto, Joanne Sweeney, Sandra Sullivan.

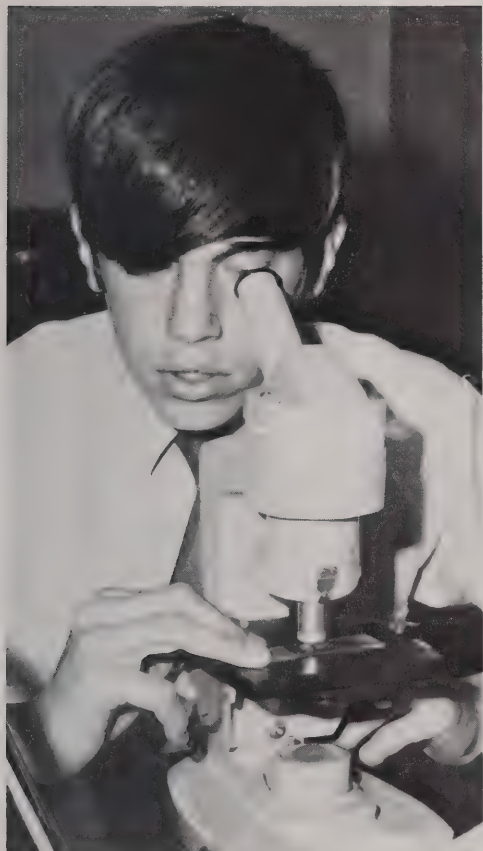

No longer is there a section of the school referred to as Senior Alley. For today's scheduling of classes puts every classroom, from first floor to fourth, at the disposal of the seniors. Every period finds seniors separating and wending their ways to assigned classes whether it be the first floor with Math in room 101, or Art, Typing, French, Spanish, German on the second floor, or climbing higher to floors three and four.

Eileen Shugrue, Debra Seretto, Lisa Marceau, John Mulcahy, Brenda Hawthorne, Cheryl O'Donnell, Eric Johnson, Michael Robillard, Timothy Smith, Carolyn Cali.

Measuring short time intervals in the Physics lab, in room 302, period III, with Mr. Dattis—Roxanne Cote, Wayne Chalifoux, Gail LaCouture, Denise Fredette, Anthony Catalfamo, Richard Lussier, John Belli, Steven LeBlanc, Craig Martin.

Seniors in Bio-chem lab, period VII, with Sister Ellen, making an analysis of pond water—Andre Dauphinais, Linda Boucher, Diane Rutan, John Carpenter.

On the third floor are the main offices, the headmaster's office, the two guidance rooms, the library, the chapel, the chemistry room and lab, and the auditorium. But four large classrooms on this floor are available for seniors in which classes are held in Religion, U.S. History, Sociology, and Problems of Democracy.

Seniors climb to the fourth floor for Religion, English, Technical drawing, Office Practice, Stenography II, Bookkeeping II, Latin 4, Humanities, Home Economics, and Bio-chemistry.

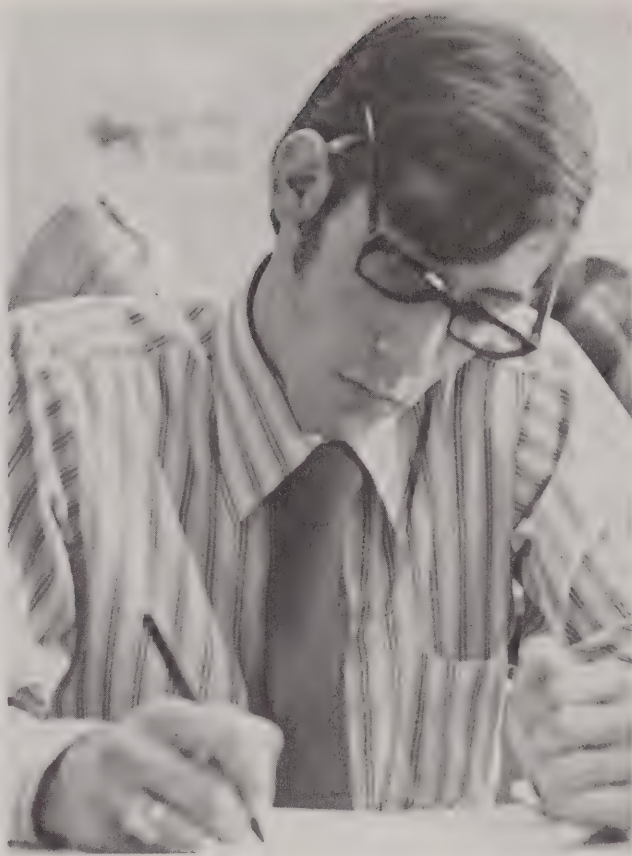

Up in room 401 with Sr. M. Teresa is Marcia Comeau deep in the study of advanced Latin. Marcia is consul in the STUDIUM CLASSICUM club. Julie Carbone and Nancy Palmieri are also officers.

Linda Seling seems to have encountered a snag in Bookkeeping II. Sister Cecile comes to the rescue.

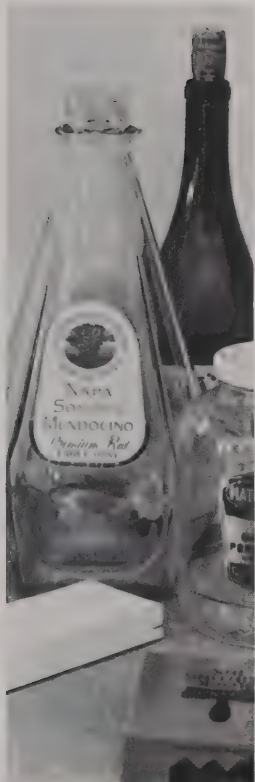

Down in room 28, Deborah Harris is giving undivided attention to her typing assignment.

Glasses doffed by Eileen Shugrue but adhered to by James Jollimore. Instruments well handled—the compass by Alfred Bergeron; the pen, Susan Vaillancourt and Thomas Kelly.

Senior boys having made the grade in Technical Drawing I are now venturing into the more difficult waters of advanced achievement in II. Although familiar with the instruments used and the technical terminology, problems still do arise and Mr. LeClair is at hand to help Rene Richard and Kevin Casavoy in their perplexities.

Seniors were eligible to enter one of the five art classes in room 28 taught by Miss Nigro. As art is a combination of applied art and art appreciation, films explaining the history of art have already been shown. Drawing, painting, and sculpturing are to be included in the course.

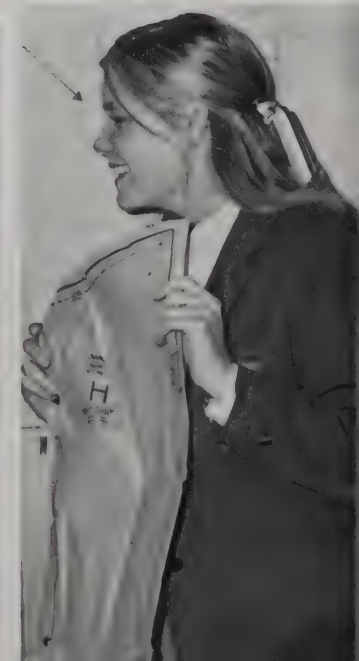

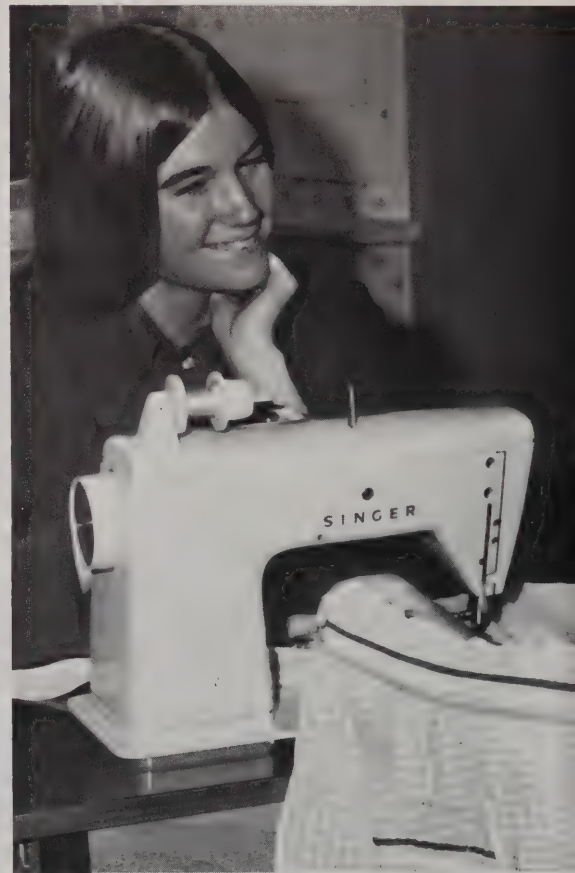

Eileen Shugrue and Joanne Sonack with Sister Theresa in French III. Margaret Simoneau and Timothy Smith in a cogitative mood. Here and there with the seniors: Denis Richard, Anne Gaffney, Gail Bedard, Denis Thibodeau, Janis L'Ecuyer, Donna Doucet, Jeannette Belliveau, Linda Raymond, Michele Despres, Margaret Keating.

Karen Sova and Kathy Morin are intent on looking for a pattern that has stylish simplicity. Maureen O'Brien smilingly praises and encourages junior Marla Pszczolkowski for her pretty checked apron. Although a junior, Lynn Primeau has learned to sew without having fingers come in contact with the needle. Senior hands and fingers deftly move the material and keep the stitching firm and straight. Jane Barry laughingly agrees that laying out a pattern is not as easy as it seems.

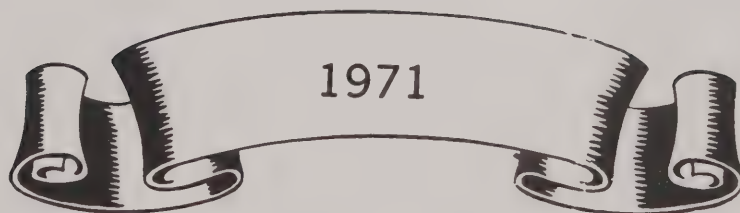

Betsy Rice, junior, assures senior Mary Ward that the texture and color of the fabric being considered is ideally suited for the pattern Mary likes best of all. There is nothing flimsy or limp about the material being carefully examined by Patricia Ray and Anne Roy. With such a large assortment of patterns to choose from, Diane Kivlehan and Nancy Credit are having a hard time to make a choice.

Senior girls in Home Economics classes with Sister Mary Consilia enjoyed the preliminaries so essential to the art of sewing—a study of fabrics, color, design, laying out of patterns, perusal of the latest fashion books, and for some their first frightening experience at an electric sewing machine. By the end of the year, the Home Ec'ers will have progressed from the making of an apron or a house coat to a stylish dress, coat, or suit, to be modeled at their fashion show some time in May.

In the gym were displayed pupil projects on the art, history, literature, science of France, Spain, and Germany, and a comparison made of the progress achieved by these countries along these lines. Artists ably demonstrated their skills with painting brush and palette to an interested audience.

The projects in the gym were viewed by many, especially the monastery with its church and cloister constructed by Gary Kastal; the old Roman aqueduct at Segovia by Kenneth Wiley; and the Eiffel Tower by Claude Thibault.

The annual Christmas program was presented in the school auditorium on the morning of December 23. It consisted of readings from the Gospels of St. Luke and St. Matthew, together with tableaux and the Glee Club's rendition of Christmas carols and hymns.

Mr. Dattis directed the performance as faculty moderator. Father Carelli and Sister Mary Sharon were in charge of the Glee Club.

Denis LeBlanc was the commentator; Deborah Raboin was Mary; Emma Hatstat, Elizabeth; Gene Boudreau, Joseph; Michael Robillard, Zacharia; Michael Coleman, Gabriel.

Paul Chapdelaine, Louis Sciabarrasi, Brian Finneron, Martin Quinn, Anthony Catalfamo, and John Cotton were shepherds. Wayne Chalifoux, John Hazell, and David Normandin were the three kings. Francis Arsenault was King Herod.

The selections of the Glee Club coincided with the readings and the tableaux. The music included Ave Maria by Adams, Silent Night by Grueber, Lo! How a Rose E'er Blooming and City of David.

Also sung were Let There Be Peace, O Judea, Shepherd Lullabye, and the traditional O Come All Ye Faithful.

Soloists were Nancy Berube, Daniel Brow, Helen Rosen, Thomas DiRusso and Susan Rivard.

The costuming was supervised by Claudia Bilotta, Donna Duval, Constance Fluet, Lucille Mailloux, and Susan Owen.

Thomas Kelly together with Stephen LeBlanc, Craig Martin, and Thomas Nikitas directed the lighting which made the tableaux scenes so colorful and effective.

Father Carelli extended Christmas greetings to one and all. Jovial Santa and his energetic helpers were most generous in the many gifts distributed from their big bags.

A strain of insanity has run through the Brewster family for generations. Even the two innocent and very charming elderly sisters, residing in the old family house in Brooklyn, show a queer mental block as the play progresses. Their nephew Teddy, believing himself to be Teddy Roosevelt, is harmless in his insanity but Jonathan is vicious and cruel. Mortimer, a successful drama critic in love with the parson's daughter, refrains from marriage until he finds out that he is a Brewster in name only. The play ends with the committing of Mortimer's two brothers and two aunts to institutions for the insane.

"Won't you have another cup of tea, Doctor Harper?"

"You don't have to pretend you love me that much."

"Where are you off to, Teddy?" "Panama!"

"Won't you sit down, Mr. Gibbs?"

"It's wonderful to go to the theater every night of my life."

Who would have suspected arsenic in the homemade elderberry wine presented by the sisters to lonely old men without kith or kin?

"You . . . you critic!"

"And you're not Doctor Einstein either."

Einstein is shaken off his feet by a blast from Teddy's bugle.

"There, there, Abbey, don't cry! We shouldn't have told Mortimer."

"My face! Dr. Einstein's responsible for that."

"Mortimer, I've almost been killed."

"What the hell's going on in here."

"That man's an imposter! And if he came here to be buried in our cellar, he's mistaken."

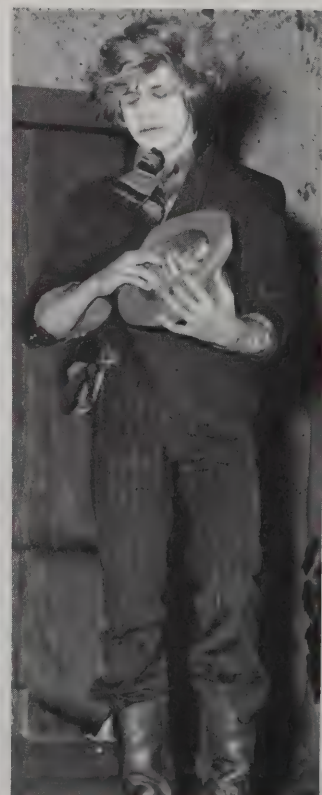

"He's going to write my play with me. I'm just tellin' him the story."

"Did you have to tie him up to make him listen?"

"But a secret proclamation must be signed in secret."

"Certainly he's wanted. Escaped from the prison for the criminal insane! He's a lifer."

Curtain call for the 12 elderly gentlemen who file out of the cellar entrance.

The 1970 football campaign of St. Bernard's High School began with the jamboree in which it faced a powerful Gardner High team and suffered a 14-0 loss.

September 25 marked the season opener in the game with Hudson High. The hard-hitting line of the opposition overwhelmed the Bernies from the start.

During the game, Hudson was able to break open three big plays for scores totaling 23 points while holding SBHS scoreless. Daniel Hanley and Tim Leary did some fine effective running and Paul Chapdelaine played a fine defensive game as well as leading the offensive charge from his center position.

At the Fitchburg High game at Crocker Field on October 31, Tim Leary, fullback, gave the St. Bernard's large and enthusiastic crowd of rooters something to cheer about as he nearly went the distance on a 55-yard romp during the second period. The Red and Gray wasted little time in reaching the scoreboard in the opening period.

Before the first period came to an end, FHS launched its third scoring drive of the afternoon. The Bernardian defense stiffened during the remainder of the second period and blanked Fitchburg during the entire period before the Red and Gray was able to score again. The game ended with FHS rolling to a 32 to 0 triumph over St. Bernard's.

The Bernies faced Worcester South at the Bowl on October 3. Tony Catalfamo, filling in for the injured Tim Leary on offense, threw a key block which enabled Dan Hanley to open the scoring in the first quarter. Ed Cataldo's successful conversion made it 7-0. But South bounced back for a score and tallied again in the fourth quarter for 14 points and victory. Bill Norman's play was a highlight for SBHS.

In the game with Hudson Catholic High, on November 22, the last of its season, St. Bernard's convincingly controlled play during the first half and continued to shine as the third period got underway. But after a scoreless first half the Hudson eleven returned with a frantic effort and edged ahead in the third stanza en route to a 15-0 shutout over the Bernardians.

In the first basketball game of the season with Athol High, St. Bernard's fought back from an 18-12 deficit to within one point, 20-19 toward the end of the first period. In the second stanza, Athol had vaulted to a 42-29 lead when Captain Jack Hazell, playing with a broken thumb, hit six straight points. Wayne Chalifoux made it 42-36 with a free throw before Hazell and Maynard converted two-pointers to draw within two points of Athol. Final score 96-65 with Athol on top. Mike O'Neil was top gun for SBHS followed by Hazell and Gary Christian.

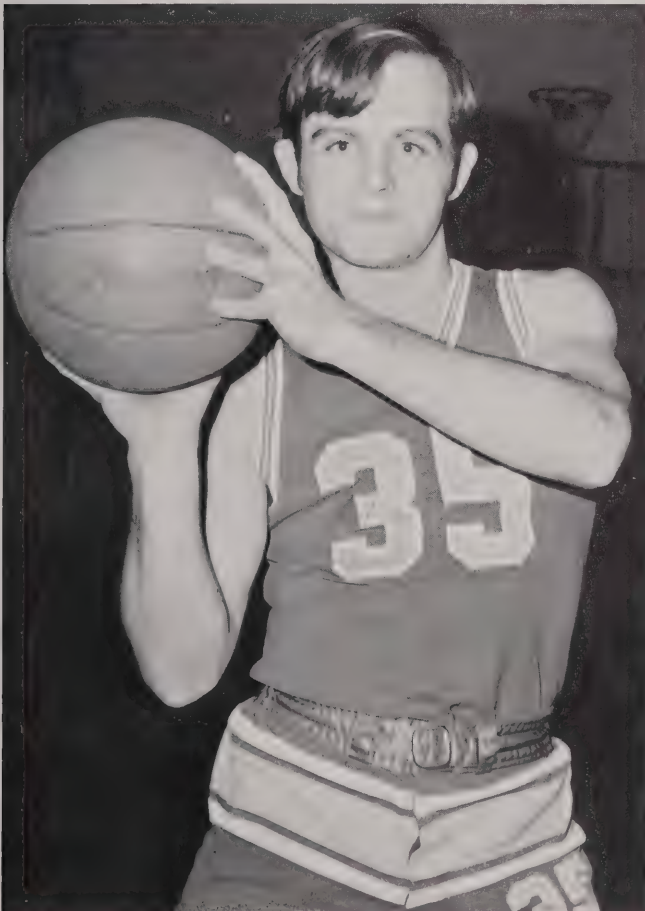

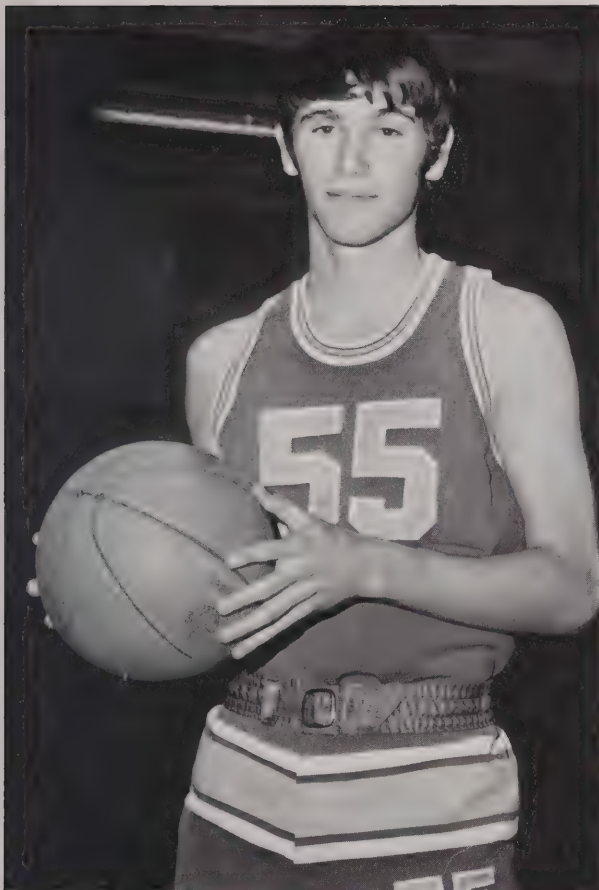

With the score tied at 47-47 at the final whistle, the JV's lost by Anthol being fouled and sinking two free throws. Mike ReFrigeri, Dave McCaffrey, and Mark Rivers were high.

Fitchburg High Raiders increased their slim 3-point lead from the first period to a 37-18 advantage at halftime. From this time on, St. Bernard's could do little to stop the FHS thrust and victory. Final score 75-50.

An undefeated Gardner team was jolted by a St. Bernard's victory, 80-58. A well-rounded Bernardian offense swung out to an early lead and held a 13-point bulge at the opening of the final period. Marty Quinn excelled under the boards, with Wayne Chalifoux and Jack Hazell also giving tremendous performances.

In the game with Notre Dame the Bernardians handled the action under the boards with strong rebounding by Hazell, Chalifoux, and Quinn. The Crusaders could do little to penetrate the effective SBHS defenses. The Saints spurted ahead after the opening jump by a quick 7-0 spread and continued to dominate through the second quarter also. In the third frame the Saints poured in 20 more points. In the final frame the two teams played nearly even. The Saints tallied 22 additional points to coast to the triumph, 89-61.

St. John's of Shrewsbury had to scramble in the late going to overcome a hustling St. Bernard's quintet at the Leominster gym. SBHS took command early and held on to hold a 19-15 edge at the end of the first period and were still on top, 35-30 at the half. St. John's came back to knot the count at 54-54 when the third frame had ended and then outscored the Saints in the final stanza for the triumph, 71 to 63. Our first game went to the St. John's squad by a 72-70 count.

Wachusett Regional swung out to an 8-point advantage in the first period and by halftime had increased that spread to 15 points. They continued to roll over the Bernardians who could not get their offensive unit working. Wachusett picked up a 25-point margin in the third period to carry a 68-43 lead into the fourth quarter. Final score 88-66.

St. Bernard's notched an 80-67 win over Leominster. Controlling the scoring in the opening stanza, they gained a commanding 16-point lead. The Blue Devils began to threaten in the third period but Hack Hazell and Denis LeBlanc returned the game to the Bernardians' control with a 16-point lead with five minutes remaining in the third. In the final period, LHS cut the gap to within 8 points. SBHS, however, sunk 8 of 11 free throw attempts in the final minutes to salvage the lead and victory.

In the February 17 game with St. Peter's of Worcester at the FHS gym, the two teams battled evenly through three periods of play before the Bernardians surged ahead to stay in the final quarter. Paced by the scoring of Wayne Chalifoux, Kevin Maynard, and Jack Hazell, the Bernie's were able to gain a slim 23-22 lead in the first quarter. SBHS stretched its lead to three points in the second stanza but fell behind by a one-point margin at the end of the third quarter, to retaliate in the final frame by outscoring St. Peter's and gaining the victory, 86-61.

A hustling Gardner High team surged from a third-period deficit to a 63-57 victory over St. Bernard's in the February 12 game. On the 20th and 23rd of February, the Bernardians went down before Leominster and Wachusett respectively. St. Bernard's ended its season with a victory over Notre Dame on February 26. Marty Quinn was a standout in his fine performance all through the game.

Coached by Sister Honora Dube, the first girls' varsity basketball team at St. Bernard's has built up an impressive 9 to 3 record to date in its initial season of play. The squad traveled to Wachusett Regional on January 5, the opening game, where they met their first defeat.

Victory switched hands in the next game as the team walked all over Ashby High. Up against a bigger and more experienced team, SBHS hoopsters fell victims to a stalwart Notre Dame team of Worcester. Undaunted by this defeat, the Bernies began a string of six undefeated contests with Holy Family High, Fitchburg, Leominster, Gardner, Ashby, and Wachusett Regional. The third loss was to a powerful Holy Name team of Worcester.

High scorers, Maureen O'Brien and Kathy Morin, have turned in fine ball handling performances. Leading the rebounding are Mary Ward, Claudia Bilotta, and Judy Sequin. Cheryl O'Donnell and Patty Small have provided the heart of the Bernardian defense.

At the Billerica Tournament, St. Bernard's merited a runner-up trophy in the consolation flight. SBHS went down to Tewksbury 32-26 in the first round, then beat Rockport 50-34 in the second game. Next SBHS girls romped over Newton, 50-30. In the final round, the Harvard Streeters lost to Chelmsford 32-24. Maureen O'Brien and Kathy Morin were high scorers. The Bernardian defense remained constant throughout the contest with no team faced scoring more than 35 points.

Area Cager Champs with a record of 9 wins and 3 losses accept the invitation to participate in the Billerica Tournament during the week of February 20.

The 1970 Bernardian baseball team snapped a three-game losing streak by beating Athol 4-3. After defeats with Oakmont and FHS, the Bernies came back again by whipping Notre Dame, 11-8, Lunenburg 5-1, and Oakmont, 7-3; but soon Gardner and Wachusett walked away with the victories. Many times one or two runs meant the difference between victory and defeat.

Class of '71 on the team were Daniel Hanley, John Hazell, Kevin Maynard, and John Mulcahy. Paul Beauchemin was the manager.

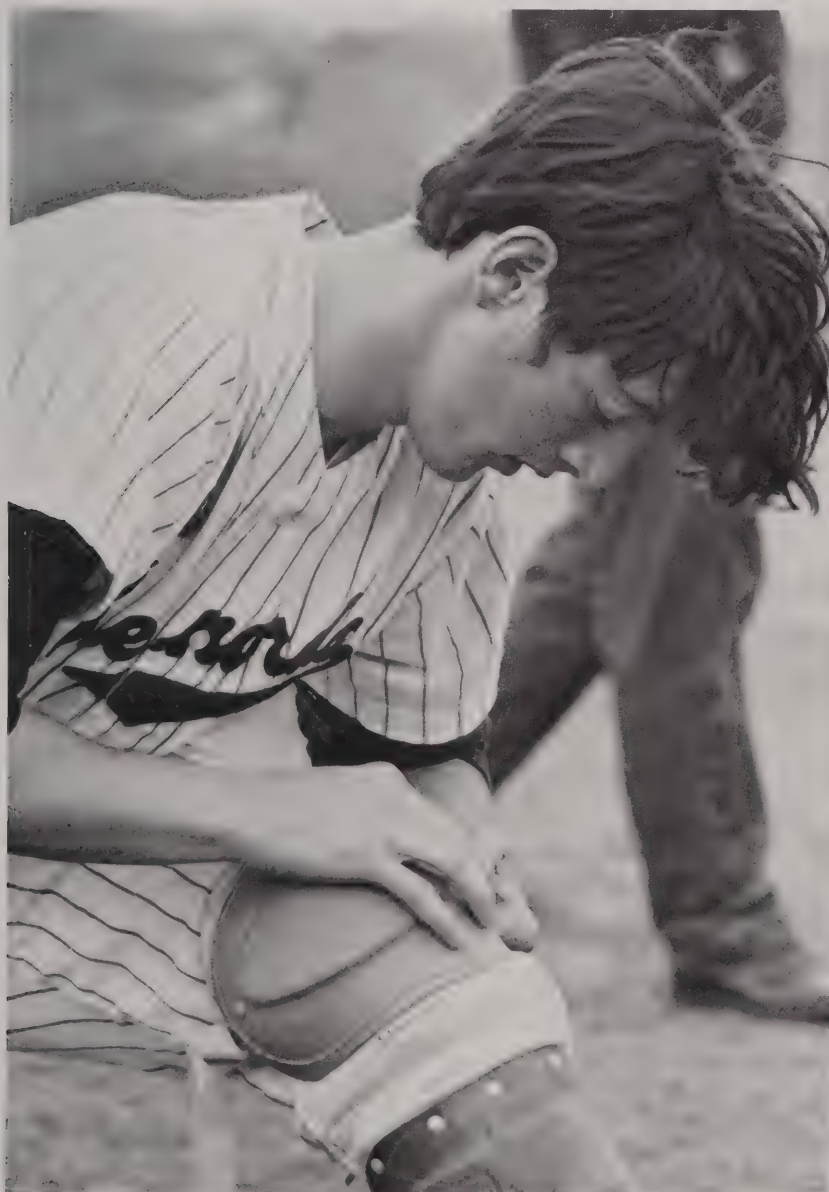

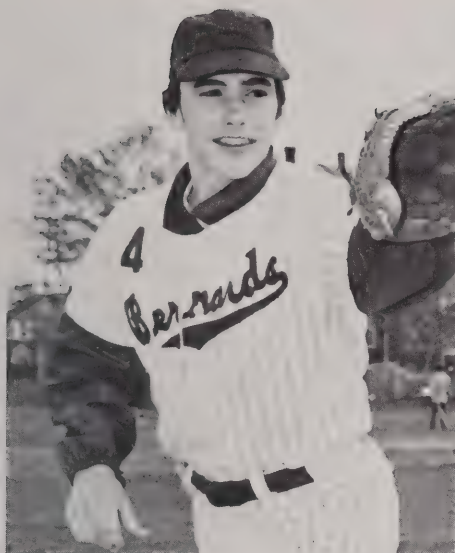

Class of '72: Edward Cataldo and John Monteson.

Try to remember the kind of September when life was slow and oh, so mellow. . .
 when grass was green and grain was yellow. . .
 when you were a tender and callow fellow.
 Deep in December it's nice to remember. . .
 altho' you know the snow will follow. . .
 without a hurt the heart is hollow. . .
 the fire of September that made us mellow.
 Try to remember and if you remember, then follow,
 follow, follow, follow, follow, follow.

O Alma Mater,
 fair and true,
 our song
 we'll sing to you.
 Thy sons and daughters
 here proclaim the glory of thy name.
 Thy colors
 we'll keep flying,
Blue and Gold on high.
 Thy banner bright,
 we'll guard aright.
 All hail,
 St. Bernard's High!

A time for us some day there'll be when chains are torn by courage born of a love that's free, a time when dreams so long denied can flourish
 as we unveil the love we now must hide.
 A time for us at last to see a life worthwhile for you and me, as we pass surely through every storm.
 A time for us someday there'll be a new world,
 a world of shining hope for you and me.

A time for us to come to the end of another story, a story already become a part of that yesterday we have just seen and lived.

Now we, living in the present,
look hopefully to the future,
with no fears for tomorrow.

For we face it with a trusting faith in God, knowing that whatever has importance in our lives
is of importance to Him, and He will never fail us.

So, Paul prayed for a safe passage to Rome. . .

"Always imploring in my prayers that somehow I may at last by God's will come to you after a safe journey."

A word of thanks to our patrons, business friends, and the countless many who helped to make this Bernardian of '71 a happy reality for us!
